THE WITCHING HOUR.

Mustrated with Pictures from the play This remarkable story, written by the author of the play which achieved such a sansational success, is filled with the light of a new idea. How-ever, the story is told in a most ap-pealingly human way, with adroit humor and compellingly strong sentiment. Telepathy, mental suggestion, hypnotism, the telling points of the drama, are caught and held completely in the novel. An unusual love story is told in The Witching Hour, and there is humor, rich and con-stant. For sale at the DESERET NEWS BOOK STORE.

TRAIN AUDITOR HUMILIATED HER

Sadie Mann Sues Salt Lake Route to Recover Damages.

CAUSED HER SEVERE ILLNESS

As the Result, She Was Compelled to Remain in Bed for Some Time-Demands Judgment for $2,000.

Sadie Mann in a suit filed in the disrict court against the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company says that a train auditor of the company humiliated and insulted her while she was traveling from Los Angeles to this city, and she asks for $1,000 actual and $1,000 exemplary damages.

The plaintiff alleges that she bought a ticket at Salt Lake City for Les Angeles on Aug. 15, 1910, and that on this ticket she started on the return trip to Salt Lake on Sept. 5, 1910. The com-plaint recites that as the train was nearing San Bernardino an auditor ex-amined her ticket and told her that the signature was not her own. She af-firmed that it was, but he insisted that it was not and told her to be prepared to leave the train at San Bernardino and that there would be a policeman there to most her there to meet her.

When the plaintiff told him that she did not have any money with her to pay for her keep in San Bernardino, he said: "I think you will find some one there willing to pay for your meals; if I was there I would be willing to do so." The plaintiff says that by making such a statement he was impugning her chastity.

She says that the matter was finally

She says that the matter was finally put up to the conductor of the train and after he had examined her ticket, he allowed her to continue her journey on to Salt Lake City.

By reason of the actions of the train auditor, she says that she was greatly humiliated and insulted, and harassed mentally, which caused her great mental and physical suffering. During the remainder of the lourney she says that mainder of the Journey she says that she was hardly able to sit up, and on arriving in Salt Lake she was compelled to take to her bed and there remained for three days as a result of the ex-

The plaintiff alleges that her actual damages were $1,000, and asks the court to award her $1,000 exemplary damages.
